Realtek HD Audio Driver Package - DLL Preloading and Potential Abuses (CVE-2019-19705)

elleg Hadar

Security Researcher, SafeBreach Labs

Introduction

SafeBreach Labs discovered a new vulnerability in the Realtek HD Audio Driver Package, which is deployed on PCs containing Realtek sound cards.

In this post, we will demonstrate how the CVE-2019-19705 vulnerability could have been used in order to achieve defense evasion and persistence by loading an arbitrary unsigned DLL into a signed process that runs as NT AUTHORITY\SYSTEM.

Note: In order to exploit this vulnerability the attacker needs to have Administrator privileges.
